

NAEP

NAEP CURRENTLY IS NOT RECRUITING NEW FIELD STAFF

The National Assessment of Educational Progress, also known as NAEP or The Nation's Report Card, is sponsored by the National Center for Education Statistics, which is part of the U.S. Department of Education.

If you would like to be contacted when positions for new NAEP field staff become available, please provide your email address and state of residence via <http://www.WorkNAEP.com>.

NAEP involves conducting assessment sessions with 4th-, 8th-, and 12th-grade students in participating schools across the country. Most NAEP assessments last approximately 120 minutes. Sessions vary in size according to school guidelines. NAEP field staff usually work in teams.

NAEP field staff receive paid training for all job responsibilities, paid time and mileage reimbursement for local driving to and from schools, weekly paychecks (direct deposit is available), and opportunities for advancement based on performance and location.

Future qualified candidates will:

- Be a U.S. citizen;
- Be comfortable working with technology;
- Be detail-oriented;
- Have the ability to work effectively on a diverse team;
- Be able to work with students in a classroom setting;
- Have the ability to lift a case weighing 20 pounds into and out of cars, with or without a reasonable accommodation;
- Have a current and valid driver's license that is not under suspension and have consistent access to a fully insured, reliable vehicle or transportation to travel to and from schools;
- Be available for all required online training and an in-person meeting with your team before assessments begin; and
- Be available to work weekdays during the data collection window, including school hours and early mornings. The data collection window may be extended due to weather or other delays.

NAEP opportunities are temporary positions. Watch this video to see how NAEP field staff conducted assessments in prior NAEP cycles. If you have questions about working on NAEP, you can email NAEPRecruit@westat.com.
